Dry Law Enforcement Put Up To State And City

KRAMER OUTLINES PLANS TO MAKE PROHIBITION VALID

NEW COMMISSIONER TELLS POLICY OF METH-ODIST TEMPERANCE BOARD.

U. S. TO KEEP OUT Federal Machinery Will Not Intervene Unless Local Rule Is Inefficient.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 25. Enforcement of constitutional prohibition will be placed squarely up to state and municipal authorities and the federal government machinery will not intervene unless obvious inefficiency on the part of local officials makes such action necessary, the board of temperance of the Methodist Episcopal church was told here today by John F. Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner. It was Mr. Kramer's first pronouncement of policy since he assumed office a week ago.

Mr. Kramer said the people of the country could be divided into two classes.

"Heretofore the line of demarcation has been between those who favored the prohibition traffic and those who opposed it," he said. "From now on the line of demarcation will be between those who are in favor of obeying the law, whether their personal views are in harmony with the law or not, and those who violate the law."

Describing the machinery being set up for the enforcement of prohibition, Mr. Kramer said:

"The first step would be with the various state inspectors. They will keep themselves informed as to conditions in their states," he said, "and will report to the district federal agent, who will use his forces to investigate and, if necessary, to enforce the law. One of the chief duties of the state federal agent will be to enlist the aid of all state officers. He will also endeavor to secure the aid of the military and police, moral and religious organizations."

Asserting his belief that the great mass of the American people were at heart, law-abiding, the prohibition chief declared that "this fact will tell mightily in the matter of the enforcement of the law. He declared that local authorities should be "jealous of their rights of enforcement and zealous in the performance of their duty."

Obedience to Law Taught.
"The highest success will be attained only if the great mass of the people properly 'teach' Mr. Kramer said. 'Obedience to law should be preached from every pulpit, taught in every school room, urged from every platform.'

Warning the board that the battle for prohibition was not over, Mr. Kramer declared that the danger of the friends of prohibition was that "our people are not giving to maintain a continued effort along any particular line."

Would You Believe It?

AGE OLD CUSTOM OF DINING IS GIVEN JAR

Vienne, Nov. 25.—A further economy in the city government has altered Vienna's age old custom of the mid-day meal hour. Instead of being served at 11:30 a. m., and those in odd numbers at 12:30 p. m.

ALLIED AID SOUGHT TO PREVENT CLASH WITH JUGO-SLAVS

(By Associated Press)
Geneva, Monday, Nov. 24.—(Telegrams received by the Serbian bureau at Bern, from Belgrade, Zaria, and Spalato, convey the impression that only prompt interference by the allies can prevent a clash between the Italian and the Jugo-Slavs at sea. It is said that the Italian fleet is ready to fight the Italian fleet. The allies are anxious that the peace conference permits our people to endure constant Italian persecutions," says one Belgrade paper received here. Our peaceful attitude is misinterpreted when we might throw D'Annunzio and his filibusters into the sea."

Another newspaper accuses Italy of desiring to blockade Jugo-Slavian exports and imports and thus "strangle her." A third reports that a reign of terror prevails in Zaria, that Italian naval base, where the Italian fleet is said to be badly treated, and that Slavs are afraid to leave their homes.

Adriatic Situation Critical.

Paris, Monday, Nov. 24.—Dispatches confirming reports from Genoa that the situation along the Adriatic coast is critical, are issued by the Jugo-Slav bureau here. The bureau says the Jugo-Slav government has asked the Italian government to evacuate its troops from Trieste, London, and Washington, to draw the attention of these governments to the dangerous situation arising from D'Annunzio's expedition, which he is reported about to make.

No New Instructions Sent.

Washington, Nov. 25.—No new instructions have been sent to Rear Admiral Andrews at Spalato regarding the attitude he is to take toward the Italian fleet. One of the chief duties of the state federal agent will be to enlist the aid of all state officers. He will also endeavor to secure the aid of the military and police, moral and religious organizations."

Reports that D'Annunzio contemplated a raid on Spalato, the Italian naval base, led to the London conference, but Mr. Daniels indicated that the official on the spot had not recommended any action in anticipation of such a raid.

(By Associated Press)

Both the case of William C. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, and general conditions in the southern republic were discussed. Mr. Lansing said, but the cabinet had before it no more information than was available to the state department yesterday.

A reply to the American note demanding the release of Jenkins, which is confined in the Puebla penitentiary on charges in connection with his abduction by bandits, had been expected before the cabinet meeting, but apparently the state department has received no intimation as to when the reply will be forthcoming.

Meantime, so far as officials here have been advised, Jenkins continues to be held prisoner.

OPERATORS TO PAY ADVANCE IF DATA ON PROFITS IS O. K.

GARFIELD NOT LIKELY TO PERMIT INCREASED PRICE FOR COAL

COST CONSIDERED

Norris, Fuel Administrator Engineer, Furnishes Figures For Basis of Agreement.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 25.—President Wilson's cabinet expected to reach a decision today on the wage controversy between the bituminous coal miners and operators that would send the miners back to work.

Before entering the meeting, Attorney-General Palmer said that if the figures as to operator's profits given yesterday by Former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, were correct, it was not likely that Fuel Administrator Garfield would permit an increased price for coal. Any wage advances granted, it was intimated, would have to come out of operator's profits.

Norris Collects Figures.
Dr. Garfield took to the cabinet meeting bituminous coal production cost figures prepared by Dr. Norris, engineer for the fuel administration during the war, who has been bringing up to date the cost sheets. These figures were expected to furnish the basis for an agreement in the cabinet as to the amount of the wage increase the operators would be asked to accept.

Operators and miners spent two hours in conference today without breaking the deadlock as to wages. Leaders of both sides said that negotiations would not be continued until after the cabinet had acted.

Fuel Rationing Outlined.
Chicago, Nov. 25.—Closing of additional manufacturing plants in the midwest, with others placed on a rationing basis, was expected to bring production up to the level in the mines which have been worked since the strike of approximately 425,000 tons of coal. Production of 1,250,000 tons of coal was in prospect today.

From none of the great production states, the war had altered today that the miners had altered their disposition to await an agreement by the operators-miners' conference at Washington. In Wyoming an Oklahoma strike had ended, and production being resumed, and in West Virginia, where the greatest quantity of fuel has been brought out since the strike, production was expected to curb radicals was expected to permit regaining the 5 percent loss of production reported yesterday.

CITY BUYS HENDERSON POLICE MOTORCYCLE

Officer Tom King will soon be rounding up auto speeders in Janesville with the aid of a powerful Henderson motorcycle with a sidecar attachment. The result of action taken by the council in special meeting last night to purchase the machine at once. City Clerk J. F. McCue today wrote to the Henderson agent in Beloit for prices. It is probable that the machine with the sidecar will cost in the neighborhood of $500.

The outfit will be used exclusively by the police department. It will be kept in the city garage in back of the city garage in back of the city hall which is nearing completion and which was made ready to house the new police patrol ambulance for the first time last night.

Through the foresight of Alderman W. J. Hilt, delay of another week in purchasing the machine was prevented last night. He brought up the matter just as the council was ready for adjournment, with the result that Alderman J. T. Dulin announced the recommendation of the purchasing committee to buy a Henderson machine. The council then was reached, he said, after an inspection of motorcycles in use in the Chicago police department.

The question as to whether or not it was necessary to purchase a sidecar attachment was brought up by Ald. L. J. Cronin. It was later explained that the attachment makes it possible for the officer making an arrest could put the offender in the sidecar and take him to the station at once.

The matter of the nuisance complaint of by people in the Kent flats on Court street was ordered stopped at once. Owners of the auto repair shop in the Kent flats on Park street, of which the complaint was made, are to be notified that prosecution under the city smoke ordinance will follow unless the nuisance is rectified.

LAY 1920 PAVING PROGRAM NOW, PLAN

Immediate steps toward outlining the 1920 city paving program were suggested by Mayor T. E. Welsh to the council last night so that bids can be advertised for as soon as possible, thus getting reliable contractors to offer estimates on the jobs. He called attention to the necessity of the board of public works acting shortly in the matter.

He emphasized the point that reliable contractors would not bid for jobs advertised late in the spring, stating that they wanted to get their machines and materials on the ground early in the year so that work could be commenced in March or April and finished up before the end of the summer.

City Engineer C. V. Kerch was instructed to proceed with the details of the paving program and have it ready for the board of public works as soon as possible.

Complaint was registered by Ald. J. J. Dulin against a condition that exists at the corner of St. Mary's avenue and Third street where he said the curbing was above the line of the sidewalk and a manhole in the center of the intersection stood two and one-half feet above the grade of the street. He demanded an explanation from Mr. Kerch. An investigation of the streets this morning by Mayor Welsh and Mr. Kerch disclosed the fact that the curbing is on a proper grade with the sidewalk and is not too high, as was stated last night. The mayor explained after the investigation that the man-hole was placed above grade only temporarily to await the grading of the streets when it will be cut down to conform with the surface. It is hoped to complete the grading in the spring of 1920.

NO SHAVES FOR H. S. BOYS IS DECISION

High school boys should not shave. Four judges were at least so convinced that they should not.

Leo Powers and Lehrer Tunstead, two members of the high school football team, decided six weeks ago that they would not shave until three weeks' increase in height and disappearance of the probability of winning a game, they mutually lightened their sentence "until the team has made a touchdown." After the defeat at the hands of Watervliet last Friday, drastic action was taken and no longer are the hells of the local high school graced by "Rip Van Winkles" walking leisurely to classes.

The predominant feature of the weekly meeting of the H-Y club last evening was the debate, "Resolved, that high school boys should not shave." Leo Powers and Lehrer Tunstead upheld the affirmative. Chadwick Newman and Albert Benson endeavored to express a negative reply, but the judges' decision favored the two speakers for the affirmative.

A short business session was held, presided over by Leon Griffler, president. The regular Bible study period followed.

CHESTER AND LESTER

New York—Northwestern University boasts the fact that its flanks are guarded by Chester and Lester. The two, the only twin brothers playing on the same team as regulars, this season. The boys are 20 years old and fine, upstanding chaps. The sole distinguishing feature of the right cheek of Lester. Their fraternity brothers have long since given up the task of identifying them, and simply call them Bernard. Once upon a time Chester called upon Lester's girl and—but that has no place in football.

in selecting the plank, straight-grained white pine will do. Use the 2x10 size (really 1 3/4 x 10 1/2).

LIFTS—The lifts supporting the plank should be very strong and low to keep the weight near the ground. They are sometimes made of 2x10 material. Another way is to use hardwood 2x4s as shown in the sketch. Section A is a 2x4 about 9 1/2 inches long and section B is a 2x4 about 26 inches long, shaped to serve as outrigger support. Section A should be fastened to the top of the sled with rings or similar device to give the sled rocker motion.

CONTRACT WILL BE MADE WITH HOSPITAL

The council took action last night to immediately enter into a business-like arrangement—a real contract—with the Sisters in charge of Mercy hospital with a view to having a definite understanding in the future that all emergency cases will be promptly cared for by them.

The question was raised by Mayor T. E. Welsh who declared there was no contract on file at the city hall other than a mutual understanding that the city was to pay $500 annually to the hospital for care of such cases. He said he understood that in the past one or two patients, transients in the city, had been refused admittance to the hospital.

As the result of a discussion of the city yesterday, have been sent out throughout the country from Camp Grant in the last two months according to Sergeant Baurse. Four are stationed at Chicago. It is expected that another one will be found in Milwaukee or in that vicinity. The station when opened at Milwaukee will enlist men for a period of one to three years. Ex-service men may re-enlist for one year of immediate overseas service.

Thanksgiving programs will be given in the grade schools tomorrow, Supt. H. H. Faust announced today. The teacher and students of each grade have prepared a program which will be presented in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to parents and patrons of the schools.

George Stowell, Beloit, yesterday was sentenced to three months in the county jail after he had been found guilty of assaulting his wife. His hearing was before Judge Clark of the Gateway City. Stowell claimed that his wife's mother had made trouble in the family and that a good share of the quarreling between his wife and himself was the result. He expressed a desire to contribute to his wife's support, but told the court he did not wish to live with her. His earnings during his confinement will be turned over to his wife.

RECRUITING PARTY SPENDS NIGHT HERE

A caravan army recruiting station in the form of a house built on a four ten truck made this city its over night headquarters on its trip to Milwaukee. The caravan started from Camp Grant yesterday afternoon.

Sgt. William Bauer and four enlisted men are in the party. Enlistments are to be accepted for all branches of the service but particularly for the medical corps of the sixth division now stationed at Camp Grant. No enlistments are to be accepted until finally quashed by the department after several minutes.

The blaze was first seen by a citizen at the Interurban hotel across the street, and a "still" alarm was sounded.

The house is the property of Harold Schwartz. The greater part of the furniture was saved.

Fire caused $500 damage to the home of Chas. Preston, 65 South Franklin street, at noon today. Originating from a defective chimney, the blaze gutted the rear of the house and burned furiously in the attic until finally quenched by the department after several minutes.

MRS. GOULD'S GOOD ADVICE.

Mrs. Howard Gould offered some very sensible suggestions a few days ago in a talk before the National Federation of College Women. She is reported to have said:

"It's high time the women of America should get out from under their social camouflage, drop the four-flush and come to the realization that today women with common sense ideas and brains are needed as never before."

With eggs selling at a dollar a dozen and other things proportionately high, there can be no mistaking the need for brains and level-headed good sense in home management at this time. There is plenty of justification, too, for the advice to drop "four-flushing."

Consider for a moment the news dispatch from Pittsburgh, that tells of the efforts of many women to return to the stores for credit wraps, furs, and silk gowns that were ordered simply for show purposes at the time of the visit of the King and Queen of Belgium, with the intention of sending them back immediately after the ceremonies were over. Can you beat that for camouflage of the sort that Mrs. Gould denounces? You cannot. The merchants at Pittsburgh have grown tired of lending fine garments, and they are teaching a lesson by refusing to take back the articles thus ordered under false pretenses.

It is becoming more clearly apparent every week, despite our remarkable prosperity, that our women can still render patriotic service by resuming or continuing the careful ways of war-time. We were bound to have some or profitable diversion. We were bound to have some of it after the strain of war was over, but as time goes on, we see the need for care. We hope that the women will follow Mrs. Gould's advice, and then see that their men-folks do the same.

ORDINARY PEOPLE'S CHILDREN.

Educational circles in England are stirred by a genuine sensation. The little daughter of a cabinet minister has started to attend a public school, as we should call it, although it is known there as the "Middlesex County School for Girls."

Children of her position, both boys and girls, are accustomed to receive their education at fashionable private schools. The oddest contribution to the discussion which this innovation has inspired is furnished by the chairman of the local board of education, who declares that since the cabinet minister receives a large salary, he should send his daughter to a more exclusive establishment and leave the public school "to ordinary people's children." To which the minister replies that finding the latter to be "the best school in the district," he wishes his daughter to have every possible advantage.

An English author, visiting Washington some years ago, was surprised to find three of President Roosevelt's children attending a public school. And watching the boys in their sports on the playground during recess he was speedily convinced that the Roosevelt youngsters were held in no special awe by their companions when he saw them giving and receiving blows in a strenuous scrimmage. "Ordinary people's children," and extraordinary people's too, attend our public schools without loss of prestige, and it ought to be possible to make the experiment in England as well without undermining the foundations of the British constitution.

FARMERS CLAIM DISCRIMINATION.

If the conditions portrayed by a western farm weekly rule generally in the producing sections of the country the hope of a permanent reduction in the cost of meats is far from reassuring.

Speaking of Illinois and saying the same things are happening in Kansas, the assertion is made that "without acreage has been cut in half, farmers are selling their brood sows and quitting the cattle business as well. Having seen hogs decline from 23 cents to 12 and a fraction, the cattle market collapse, corn slump from near $2 a bushel to $1.25, farmers are convinced it is the purpose of the powers ruling the markets to drive hogs to 10 cents and corn below $1. As neither can be grown in Illinois or states west of Illinois at such prices, many farmers have simply had to quit."

This is the farm view and while doubtless gloomier than an unprejudiced survey would make it, yet it contains a suggestion that it may be well to consider. If the farmers conclude that prices do not warrant the growing of livestock and the planting of large acreage of grain it naturally follows that the supply of these commodities will be reduced and an advance in price is the natural sequence of a shortage. It is also true that what reductions have been made in the cost of living have fallen on the farmers. The desired end cannot be gained by throwing the burden on one industry and permitting others to continue on the war basis. The reduction must be fairly distributed.

LOVE THE GREATER.

Gun-A-Loat is in jail. He has been captured by the Canadian police after a chase of thirteen years in which nearly $50,000 was spent in the effort to run him down. For Gun-A-Loat is charged with killing two men.

He found them giving whiskey to his young Indian wife, and a short time later the two white men were found dead. And Gun-A-Loat has been a fugitive from justice ever since.

Yet, it wasn't the law that got him. It was love. His wife recently became ill, and needed the assistance of a physician from "the outside." The doctor could be brought to "Gun-A-Loat's home much quicker if Gun-A-Loat went after him. So Gun-A-Loat went to the city, gave himself up to the police, and asked the doctor to be sent post-haste to his wife.

His wife will live, but Gun-A-Loat may hang for the murder of the two white prospectors who died thirteen years ago.

Love was successful where policemen and the law failed. It is always so, in civilized centers and in the woods. Love is the greater.

NO TIME TO QUIT.

A man who has been actively engaged in business since reaching manhood and has accumulated sufficient wealth to maintain him, announces his retirement at the age of 56 years. So pleased is he over the outlook of getting out of the harness that he urges others to do likewise. For more than 30 years he has worked hard, probably, and now he thinks he is going to have a lot of fun.

But will he? He may be of such a disposition that he can throw out the habits of a lifetime and get pleasure out of the release from responsibility, but if so

PLAYING THE MINISTER.

"You must," the good wife said to me, "devote one pleasant day unto our new-come minister. At golf he likes to play!" And so, obedient to her wish, I sought the goodly man And asked him would he like to shoot the ball into the can.

"Aye, that I would," he smilingly said, "I think the game is first."

So I prepared that afternoon to have a rotten time.

I'd never played with ministers; it did not seem to me That one could preach the word of God and still a golfer be.

Yet when he changed his clerical for garments less refined

No golfer on the course would know he hooked his vest behind.

"What odds shall I bestow?" I asked. He answered, "None at all,

"I'll play you level round the course. A ball, a ball, a ball!"

Now that is true-born golfer's speech. It startled me a bit.

Thought I, "The parson knows the game. Perhaps the church can hit?"

And when I saw him make a swing and then observed his smile,

I whispered low to Alex Ross: "The double has style!"

Then as his first drive left the tee I further said it looked

As though for three good dollar balls the clergy had me hooked.

He hit 'em far and straight and true, he putted like a fiend.

He smote the pill with all his might, and into it he leaned;

He kept the honor all the way; and at the final cup, I paid him three good dollar balls for he was seven up.

"My friend," said I, "you have a style for which all golfers search.

If I thought I could play like you I'd gladly go to church."

he is the exception to the rule. There are men who can turn from a vocation to an avocation and, devoting their entire time to the latter, preserve their balance, but it is a doubtful experiment.

Nothing to do is the worst affliction that can befall any in fairly good health. And why should a man who is 55 want to separate himself from the line of effort in which he has expended his best years? If he was in love with his business or profession at that age he should possess his greatest value as an active participant in the business.

In this era and under the conditions that prevail anyone who quits active work at 55 when not driven to it by physical necessity is depriving the world of 10 or 15 years of service to which it is entitled.

Case of Vivi-Section

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—Has man the right to perform surgical operations and to experiment with drugs on the lower animals in order to increase his knowledge of surgery and of medicine?

This question has recently been brought again to the public attention.

A bill was introduced into the United States senate making it unlawful to vivisection dogs in the district of Columbia, and the senate judiciary committee held hearings upon the bill which brought forth a distinguished gathering of scientists and a large number of churchmen and other persons to assail it. The question was threshed out with unusual thoroughness.

The English parliament recently defeated a similar bill, of which one of its opponents said that it was a right to vivisection for the dog or for the medical profession, but for the intelligence of the house of commons.

The public has been largely misled about vivisection. The average layman has little idea of its actual nature and value. He knows that some influential journals have ridiculed it, and that Mark Twain wrote a book against it. He knows also that doctors generally regard it as an absolute necessity to their science. And that is about all he knows.

The conventions of those who oppose vivisection are that man has no right to inflict pain on the lower animals; that medical science has not accomplished anything by the practice of vivisection; and that vivisection is merely a subtle infliction of cruelty.

The medical men agree that the unnecessary infliction of cruelty is not justified. They admit that the right of vivisection has been abused. They are in favor of proper control of this right. But they maintain that to prevent human suffering by the sacrifice of lower animals is supremely justifiable.

Go further and say that even human lives should be sacrificed in experiment if much greater numbers of human lives can thereby be saved, and this has been done repeatedly. The best known case is that of the conquest of yellow fever, in which several physicians voluntarily sacrificed their lives to prove that yellow fever is conveyed by the mosquito. Men have also risked their lives in the study of French fever, of influenza, and of pellagra.

Of course, the human sacrifice must be voluntary, while the sacrifice of the lower animals is involuntary. But society approves and applauds the sacrifice of a few men to save many. Then why, ask the physicians, should the sacrifice of a few dogs to save many men?

As to the value of vivisection, the doctors assert that nearly all of the advances in medicine and surgery made in the last 50 years have been based directly upon experiments with living animals, and many of these experiments were upon dogs.

Before discussing the part the dog plays in medical science, it should be pointed out that the making and testing of all serums and anti-toxins depends upon the use of live animals. Sometimes the animal is not seriously injured, sometimes he dies, and sometimes he undergoes considerable suffering. But the production of snakepoison vaccine, and of the diphtheria anti-toxin which saves so many child lives, the inoculation against typhoid fever which made our army in France the first in history not decimated by that disease, the prevention of hemorrhagic death from the bite of a mad dog, are all dependent upon the use of live animals. To discontinue the use of live animals for these purposes would be to destroy thousands of human lives in a year. These serums and anti-toxins are made by the use of live animals are made by the use of live animals and are tested in the bodies of animals at the hygienic laboratory of the United States public health service here in Washington.

This laboratory uses about 15,000 live animals every year. Most of them are mice, rats, guinea pigs, and rabbits. The number of dogs which are sacrificed every year save many times that number of human lives. They are your protection against some of the most deadly diseases. They also protect you against fraudulent serums and anti-toxins. The doctors feel that they are justly entitled to the use of live animals to save human life as the farmer is in killing animals and sending them to market to maintain human life.

Animal Must Suffer.

In some cases the animal must suffer, it is true. But it is a question of whether the animal is to suffer or human beings are to die.

When you want quail on toast, you do not debate whether the quail is as good a right to live as you. When we buy a fox, a pure breed, we only deprive a fox of life, but she only suffers the infliction of considerable suffering on the trapped fox. Daily we sacrifice animals to our own purposes. We must do so to live. Often we sacrifice them somewhat ruthlessly, causing them to suffer more than is necessary, as when we take the animals in traps that do not kill. Animals used for experiment in medical science are allowed to suffer as little as possible.

If your child were bitten by a mad dog, and threatened with the horrible death which hydrophobia causes, you would not hesitate to send him to a Pasteur institute for treatment. The Pasteur treatment would save his life and it is the only thing that could possibly save his life.

Many animals were sacrificed to perfect the Pasteur treatment, and many animals were sacrificed to make the material for the treatment. You would never debate the question whether these animals had as good a right to live as your child. Thus argue the doctors.

Impressive Evidence Presented.

The public has an impressive array of evidence against the contention and that vivisection has accomplished nothing. They specially value the evidence that some of the dogs live under the same conditions of food and shelter as does man. Modern intestinal surgery is based largely upon experiments with dogs. So is knowledge of the heart and of the circulatory system. A doctor would not venture to suture a stab wound in the heart or to perform experiments that have been made on dogs. Goats were tried, but it was found that a goat would not even stop grazing because of the pain. Dogs were affected by it like men, and the defensive mechanisms and treatments were perfected by experiments on dogs. Cerebral surgery, including the treatment of brain tumors and brain injuries, was developed by experiments on dogs. The treatment of various organs was perfected in the same way.

Chinopodium is the only drug that cures the deadly disease of hookworm at a real price. It is made from the composition and effect. Each fresh lot which is used by the doctors must be tested on a dog first. In some cases it kills the dog. If this experiment were not allowed, it would have to be tested on a man, and in some cases it would kill the man.

Chemists Use Dogs.

The bureau of chemistry in much the same way has to use dogs in the testing of drugs in order that it may properly enforce the pure food and drug act. The chief of the bureau of chemistry says that he could not carry out the provisions of that law without the use of dogs for experiments. In the bureau of animal industry dogs are used for experiments with certain parasitic diseases, which it decry the use of sheep and cattle by dogs. It would have to abandon its experiments completely if it were forbidden to use dogs.

The answer of the vivisectionists to all this is simply that no real good has been accomplished by vivisection, and that man has no right to inflict pain on the lower animals suffering whatsoever. One of those men who appeared before the committee said that for this reason he did not eat any meat for five years, and that he never permitted the castration of animals on his farm.

ASK US

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information may write a letter to the Janesville Daily Gazette, Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., and enclose a stamp. A letter will be answered by the bureau.

Q. Who is the oldest and who is the youngest United States senator? V. O. A.

A. John Hollis Bankhead, Moscow, Ala., who is 77 years old, is the oldest senator, while the distinction of being the youngest man in the senate goes to Pat Harrison, Gulfport, Miss. He is 38 years old.

Q. Are persimmons edible before they have been touched by frost or frozen. C. L. D.

A. The department of agriculture says that the belief that persimmons must be frost-bitten before they are fit to eat is erroneous. The truth of the matter is that persimmons are fit to eat at any time, and the quality of persimmons as to the quality of any other fruit. If persimmons are not eaten before frost, it is because the fruit has not yet matured.

Q. What is meant by "futures" in grain markets? L. A. K.

A. The bureau of markets says that when a market report quotes prices months ahead, it is a reference to the delivery of a stock or commodity at a date not yet reached and are therefore futures.

Q. In putting a car away for the winter, should the tires be flat? J. R. J.

A. The best way to care for tires in winter is to leave enough air in them so that the tube will not be flat. They should not, however, be left fully inflated. If possible, jack the car so as to keep the tires off the ground. Draw all gas out of the tank to prevent fire.

Q. Can a soldier or sailor purchase his release from the service? M. A. T.

A. There is no way at the present time for a soldier or sailor to be discharged before the war this was possible, but this practice was discontinued immediately after the declaration of war.

Q. Is Congress

CHRISTMAS SALE AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH PROVES SUCCESS

All the features of a winter fair were on display at the opening afternoon of St. Mary's church bazaar and Christmas sale. The children of the parish attended the bazaar and in charge of the candy and toy booths busy with their little purchases. Miss Clara Weber and Miss Esther Campbell were in charge of these booths. The sale is being continued this afternoon and tonight.

Embroidered articles of all kinds were on display at the fancy work booth which was in charge of Mrs. J. P. Joyce, Mrs. George Cullen, Mrs. C. M. Jones and Mrs. Edward Buss. A choice collection of aprons, both hand and house aprons, was displayed in the booth presided over by Mrs. Charles Cox and Mrs. Edward Jerr. Appearing cakes, doughnuts, and other samples of home baking were in charge of Mrs. Frank Croak, and Mrs. W. Watt, while country produce was in charge of Mrs. C. M. Jones and Mrs. C. M. Jones.

Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Frank Rice and Mrs. Frank Miller and were served at small tables. Coffee and doughnuts were a prime favorite, although other light refreshments were offered. The hall was screened off and here, mystery booths were in charge of Miss Esther Campbell and Mrs. J. F. Gateley. There was also a large collection of fancy dolls.

The fair is held in the basement of the church which has just been finished off for the use of just such events. Miss Anna Croak has been at the head of the affair. A program given mostly by the children is given each evening in charge of Miss Anna Croak. The hall was packed last evening to hear the program.

This evening the following program will be presented: piano solo, Mrs. Katherine Stead; recitation, Frances Jerr; "The Broom and the Rod," descriptive dance and song, C. Reinecke, George Keating, Loretta Buss, Vivian Croak, Katherine Connors, Helen Barr, Johanna, Dussick, Katherine Welch; dance, Katherine Connors; "The Little Mischief," songs, Helen Kaefer, the Dussicks, the Buss, Vivian Croak, and Katherine Welch; recitation, Leo Higgins.

Mr. Alexander will be at the Baptist church, Wednesday evening.

MISS EGAN RESIGNS AS CITY LIBRARIAN

Miss Mary Egan, for more than five years city librarian, resigned last evening at the special meeting of the library board. Her resignation comes as a surprise.

Judge Charles Piffeld, member of the board, said today that Miss Egan's loss would be felt keenly. He said that the board was reluctant to accept the resignation as the work of Miss Egan has been far above the ordinary. Since her coming to the city more than five years ago, the patronage of the library has increased to a great extent. She was ever alert to the newest and best methods in her work, he said, and such application had made the local library of high standing.

Miss Egan will take charge of the public library at Clinton, Ia., Dec. 15. The library is much larger than the local one and gives Miss Egan a much broader field in which to work. Miss Egan's successor will probably be chosen by the board in a short time upon the recommendation of the board at Madison.

Miss Egan came to this city from Marshfield.

Mr. Alexander is an International Sunday school man.

What Would You Say?

If some one should ask you to tell them the best thing you knew about your bank, what would you say?

Would you tell them about its handsome building? Would you brag of its large deposits or its strong vaults? Would you tell them how long it had been in business?

All of these are very well but they are not the most important quality of a modern bank.

"The Human Side of Banking" that is the big thing now-a-days. The fact that your banker takes a personal interest in your affairs and that he wants to make his service helpful to each patron. The friendly, cheerful attitude of the bank toward its patrons—that is worth many times the value of these other things.

Think it over.

News Notes From Movieland
BY DAISY DEAN

Mary Pickford and her mother left California several days ago to go out for a short vacation. There were also a few other reasons for making the trip such as a law suit, and a new wardrobe. While so near the capital Miss Mary ran down to Washington to pay her respects to the president, according to reports, and just to prove that she was there she had this picture taken immediately after she had called at the White House.

It is said that Miss Pickford also told government officials that she would lose her mind if she had to figure out another income tax such as last year's and she did hope they'd simplify things. The law suit which is causing her some trouble is an old one which was settled by one court, and it has been appealed to a higher one. Miss Pickford lost in the first suit and was asked to pay a sum of more than four figures, which really ought not to be a tax or disliked task for a young person who has "such a hard time figuring" our her income tax.

"ILLITERATE DIGEST"
Will Rogers' latest offering is the "Illiterate Digest," which shows him standing on a lawn throwing a rope and making remarks. It will be a presentation of his funny sayings in a one-reeler. His wit has been printed everywhere, but this is the first time it has been presented in this particular form. Here is one gem from his "Illiterate Digest": "Why worry about the coal strike? We have no room in our cellars now."

Mary Pickford.
CONKLE AT INCE STUDIO.

"ALIAS JIMMY" AGAIN
"Alias Jimmy Valentine" is to be done for the third time on the screen. First Francis Bushman did it one reel. Then along came an eight-reeler of "Jimmy" and now Bert Lytell is going to do it in five spoils.

HOUDINI GOING ABROAD
Houdini, just as he would like to settle down for good and all in the west coast film colony, is called abroad to fulfill an engagement with the Moss Empire company that has been postponed from 1915. Houdini will sail on the Mauretania on December 16, and during his six months' stay in England will make two pictures.

33 DELEGATES WILL GO TO 'Y' CONFERENCE
Boys' clubs, Boy Scout troops, schools, young people's societies, Sunday school classes and churches as well as the M. C. A. group are to be represented in the delegation of 33 members who will leave Friday morning under the auspices of the Rock County Y. M. C. A. to attend the Ohio Boys' conference at Shelbyville.

Evansville has the largest delegation of any community in the province of the county association. The number of delegates from the various communities registered thus far are: Evansville 11, Clinton 8, Milton 6, Avon 1. Names of delegates are as follows:

Funny Things Ministers See At Weddings
(BY PEG O'BRIEN)
What does the preacher think about when he's marrying a couple? At such time when all attention is focused upon the bride who invariably plays the star part in the ceremony, the minister who really is somewhat important stands by with a mention of how he looked. Are all eyes on the bride?
But he who ties the knot witnesses many humorous happenings which seem always to break the solemnity of the occasion.
A Janesville minister has related the following episodes which are his personal experiences.

She Was of Amazon Type
One evening an ill-mated couple broke in upon him and demanded to be made one. She was a Canadian of the Amazon type, he a small unpretentious person. She it was who acted as chief executive and hurried the ceremony along as a cab in her hire was waiting at the door. When they had been wed she hurried out leaving him to make his way in her footsteps as he probably would have to do the rest of his life. Before leaving the minister he reached up to him and whispered in a pitiful voice: "Parson, pray for me." And the parson did.

Much practice on the lines of the ceremony sometimes confuses rather than clarifies the minds of the players. The double ring service was being used. She, taking the ring, said, "I, Mary, with this ring promise to be a faithful wife and true to the congregation snickered, and the bride knew some slip had been made but couldn't think wherein she had failed. The minister gave her the cue but by that time she was speechless. Her tongue clove to her mouth and the slip was passed by uncorrected. For there's many a slip twist the old maid catches widower.

An old maid after almost certain that she would never wed was married at last to a widower. Immediately following the ceremony the minister addressed the bride by her new name. Once, twice, three times he spoke to her before she realized that she was being spoken to. "I do." Here's one on the groom. The act was going fine when the groom got anxious to say the "I do." The minister had just begun his quite long, dry lines which began "Do you etc., when the overanxious benedict burst out "Yes, sir."

SUGAR OUTPUT IS LESSENED BY RAINY WEATHER THIS FALL

(BY MRS. ABBIE HELMS)

Unlimited spoonfuls of sugar for coffee seem to be guaranteed in the mountain of pure white sugar made daily by the Rock County Sugar company. While individual possession of the product is barred, it is a glorious privilege to gaze on the production of sugar being piled into barrels and to dream of all the cranberry sauce it will sweeten, and all the mince pies and plum cake that will be made for Thanksgiving.

Three to four hundred barrels a day are being made now at the factory. That they are not hoarding it is shown by the fact that Saturday they were filling a car billed for one hundred barrels of sugar, and only had 95 to fill the order. It has been the policy of Captain Davidson, said Manager W. E. Davis today in speaking of the output of the company, to distribute the sugar through the open market directly to the public instead of selling to the wholesale houses or to the milk condenseries as he had ample opportunity to do. Four or five carloads of sugar have been distributed by the wholesale grocery to consumers in Janesville brought from this company, and large amounts have been bought by the beet growers who have been allowed to buy a certain amount of sugar each year, pro rata to the amount of beets raised by them.

"It is singular," said Mr. Davis, "how farmers who have not grown beets for 10 years come in and try to make out that they are beet growers, even going to the extent of promising to raise beets next year if they can obtain sugar." It is needless to state that they are informed that if they raise beets next year, they will get sugar next fall.

Janesville had the first carload of sugar made at the local factory, and Beidold had the second. It is expected that the run will last about two weeks longer. The output will probably total something better than three million pounds of sugar.

Although the growing season for the beets was fair, the fall weather was unfavorable for putting sugar into the beets, the rainy condition of October being the worst possible for that purpose. Bright sunshine in the daytime and brisk frosts at night are what the beets need for ripening and maturing the roots. To this reason and to the inferior quality of the seed is due to the fact that the output of sugar is only three quarters what it ought to be for the amount of beets sliced.

Michigan reports the same condition in her sugar factories. Although the western factories can depend on more sunshine during the season than does Wisconsin, yet they report the output is less than usual. These facts together with the high price paid for labor is responsible in a large degree for the higher price of sugar at this time.

From 350 to 400 men are being employed at the factory in making sugar. Two shifts are used, the machinery being kept in active operation from the time it is started until the run is finished. About $1400 to $1500 daily is the payroll for the men. This does not include the amounts paid the farmers for growing the beets.

The highest price ever paid for beets has been paid this year, $10 a ton, for average beets and a higher rate for bigger sugar content in the beets. This high price together with the high rate paid for labor, has boosted the price of sugar far above the normal price.

Kidney Troubles Vanish With Use of Agmel, Sap of Mexican Plant

New York.—Physicians who have tested the sap of the Mexican agave plant in the treatment of the diseases of the kidneys believe that an important discovery has been made. Writing in la Esencia de Medicina, the leading Mexican medical journal, the editor says: "It is perhaps the only substance known up to the present time, in the whole world, having the power to radically and permanently overcome Bright's Disease."

Reports of definite results in a large number of chronic and long standing cases of kidney trouble have created a persistent demand for this sap, which is popularly known under the name of AGMEL, and considerable quantities are being imported into the United States.

Some of these druggists who might be styled the more progressive and who are constantly on the lookout for something that may be of real benefit for their customers have already procured a limited amount of Agmel. Such a one is Smith Drug Co., of our local druggists, who will be glad to inform interested persons about it or free booklet descriptive of this remarkable sap, will be mailed by Agmel Sales Co., 4131 Union Square, New York City.

"CLIPPING OFF" PLAY MAY BE STOPPED

By Bud Williams

Football fans, coaches and players are up in the air over the way some teams are being coached to attack defensive players from the rear. "Clipping off" from behind is a great way to cripple players, say all fans, coaches and players, and should be abolished. It is likely the rules committee will get a chance to change this at the rules meeting this winter. All teams are being coached to watch for this style of play which is producing so many cripples. A wrenched knee or broken ankle is an easy thing when this attack is brought into play.

To have a man throw himself upon the legs of another, by creeping up behind, is not very sportslike. It certainly does take the "clipped" player out of the play, but it sometimes sends him to the hospital. And more often than otherwise the play, or so "clipped" is in no position to get into the play, and his taking off will not in any way effect the play. It is simply carrying too far offensive tactics.

Rules committees will have a chance to change all this after the present season, and it won't surprise many people to have a new rule in the little blue book next fall, making it unlawful for a player to attack another from the rear below the knees.

The flying tackle was abolished when it began causing injuries, and this "clipping" from behind should be stopped before it becomes too dangerous for the finer sensibilities of college sportsmen. (Protected by the Blair News Service)

J. H. S. BASKETBALL SCHEDULE IS HEAVY; 14 GAMES BOOKED

Janesville high school's basketball team is confronted by a heavier schedule this year than in many past seasons. Fourteen games have been booked for the Blue quintet; four more than last year, and it is probable that another will be listed before long.

By far the most interesting opponent will be Monroe, Lewis Road, elected this year's captain of the Janesville team, now is attending school at Monroe, and in all probability will captain Monroe's five. The outcome of the contest, which will be played here on February 27, is awaited with intense curiosity.

Janesville's team for this year has not yet been picked. It will have to await the outcome of the inter-class basketball games on December 4, which will show up the quality of all competitors. Only two men of last year's five remain, Powers, guard, and Hager, forward. Powers' availability, however, is in doubt at present because of the injury to his left shoulder sustained in Friday's football game with Walworth.

The record of the Blues last year was an excellent one which bodes hope to equal. Out of ten games played, only two were lost and those by small margins.

Following is the schedule: December 12, Brodhead high, here; December 19, Delavan School for the Deaf at Delavan; January 9, Delavan School for the Deaf, here; January 16, Fort Atkinson high at Fort Atkinson; January 23, Evansville high, here; January 30, Beloit high, place to be decided; February 6, Elkhorn high, here; February 13, Madison high, U. A dollar buys a dinner

That is very scanty fare:

Five francs would buy a winner

With the trimmings—over there.

A dollar buys a minute

Five francs, when you got in it,

Would buy one for a day.

A dollar spent on roses

Will hardly purchase a scent:

Five francs would purchase posies

A dollar bill the fare is

To Gloomhurst-by-the-sea;

You could go from Nice to Paris

On five francs and "no compree."

But, oh! to cross the ocean

Where a dollar buys ten francs!

REMEMBER THAT NIGHT

It was in the Champagne in the days when the boche still owned the air and moonlight meant a raid. Nobody else was allowed to use the lines signaling, and it did seem as though the enemy had it about his own way after dark.

Suddenly as you were starting into the dark you saw a light flash and go out, flash and go out, in a surge of wood to the right. Nobody else seemed to notice it and you hotfooted it to the Chief of Section and in a few minutes four of you were crawling up toward the bushes. Every once in a while the light flashed. You were a little ahead, of course, because he was your spy and you were going to get him.

Suddenly you heard a voice, speaking in English. "Better go easy with the light."

There was a tense moment while you got your fingers over your gat and carefully drew yourself up, ready for the rush.

"Don't help it," another voice answered, strangely familiar, "I've got to find it."

Then the figure turned toward you—one look into the determined features and you fell back limp.

It was the skipper looking for his wristwatch.

(If you remember any other night, yourself, let's hear about it.)

YOU TELL 'EM

"Hold on," says the hard M. P.

Says the rooky, "I rate a star

Kenosha, Denying Beloit's Charges of Commercialism, Makes Counter-Attack

Kenosha, Nov. 25.—The charge made by the Beloit High school against the Kenosha High football management, that it had attempted to commercialize high school football, has drawn fire from Manager S. W. Ward of the Kenosha eleven. The charge was based on an agreement with the Beloit eleven to play in Kenosha on Thanksgiving, the visiting team to receive $100 and expenses.

"If there was any attempt to commercialize football," said Manager Ward Monday, "it was done by Beloit. When we started negotiations, as in all other games, I offered Beloit liberal expenses to play at Kenosha for the holiday game. The Beloit manager said that his eleven had an offer from Freeport to play for $100 and expenses and that they would not play for less. I offered to give them 40 percent of the gate receipts with a guarantee of expenses. This offer was met with the response from the Beloit management that the border city eleven was not anxious to play and did not care to consider the game unless it carried $100 over expenses. Then I agreed to pay the amount merely because it has always been the custom in Kenosha to share profits on a Thanksgiving game with a visiting team.

"Now, if that is commercializing football, the Beloit manager surely did it. It should also be said that after all this the Beloit management cancelled the game, even though I was willing to meet the terms which it had set."

Beloit in refusing to play the game declared that they wished to meet the La Crosse team since it had a chance by defeating it of winning the state title.

SAMSON COMPANY ASKS COUNCIL TO VACATE STREETS

The request for the closing of some streets in Spring Brook. He said this petition would not be ready for several weeks. He was urgently asking discussion of changes desired in the vicinity of the main plant outlining if possible the Samson building program.

Outlines More Plans.
"In going on with the discussion of Spring Brook changes proposed, I first want to express the Samson company's wholehearted appreciation of the support which the council has given us throughout and especially you, Mayor Welsh. This is the first time I believe that we have come before the city with such a request. As the plant extends we will want to come before you with more requests. I want to invite upon you and the city to be fair with you all the way—we are not going to ask for anything that will harm the city. We will look at every proposal from everyone's standpoint."

The Samson program in Spring Brook calls for the immediate finishing up of the new tractor unit now in construction and the erection of two other foundry units. I am not going to discuss upon this unit now being built will be one of the largest in this part of the country.

"Within a few weeks we will ask the council to declare closed several streets running through our property in Spring Brook. We shall request the complete vacation of Alameda street, which runs south from Eastern avenue across two railroad lines and which affects no one else but the Samson company. We do not want to leave there has been a road planned beyond the old Bailey homestead but we shall ask the vacation of such a street if it has been laid out."

"Our program, which has not yet been entirely worked out, calls for the developing of a system of streets within our property leading to main entrances on the north and east sides. We shall probably ask for the closing of Industrial avenue to general traffic."

Considers Public Safety.
"Industrial avenue is the street which runs south from Eastern avenue to the rear of the tractor unit. We shall want this street closed to traffic for safety reasons. With the immense amount of company traffic which will be on this avenue it will be dangerous for regular traffic. The St. Paul tracks which cross it make it doubly hazardous. We do not want to leave there has been a road planned beyond the old Bailey homestead but we shall ask the vacation of such a street if it has been laid out."

"Some people asked at the time construction of the tractor units began why we did not build them facing McKee boulevard instead of a block out on what was then Viney street. We did this for safety reasons only. With several thousand people pouring out of the plant each day upon a street along which the tractor cars and interurbans run and which will eventually be made a through street, much-traveled, a block would have been dangerous to public safety."

"There are four short streets which run east and west on our property—State street, James Place, Elliott street, and George Place. We shall probably ask for the closing of that short stretch of State street to a block out on what was then Viney street. We do not want to leave there has been a road planned beyond the old Bailey homestead but we shall ask the vacation of such a street if it has been laid out."

"Efforts will be made to make the 'hill' property southwest of the plant across the Northwestern tracks a credit to the city in every respect. In laying out the streets we shall keep in mind the beauty of the city and shall make it a part of Janesville—not a separate entity.

In arranging for the construction of homes on this property space will be left for erection of a school house while other parts will be left vacant for the building of other public institutions which will be necessary in a new subdivision. We shall endeavor for the sake of beauty, to preserve the row of trees which run along the Northwestern ridge on what was formerly the Niemann, Douglas and Spohn property. We shall ask of the council a little later several changes tending to make a better looking subdivision matching with the city."

Mayor Welsh stated at the close of Mr. Craig's talk that the city should now realize what the Samson plant is doing for Janesville and should not feel that they are asking for and taking all they want. He spoke of the $30,000 sewer which it would have been necessary for the city to build for drainage on Eastern avenue this year falling on the Samson company's voluntary agreement to build the sewer without any cost to the city. He told of this as but one of the many things being done for Janesville.

So that the councilmen may be given a better idea of the streets which will be closed, the first meeting, Alderman J. J. Dulin moved that the council inspect the property in a body Friday afternoon, meeting at the city hall at 1:15 for the purpose. The motion was carried and Mr. Craig announced that he would be pleased to point out the proposed changes.

CAPT. FEAGIN CHOSEN TO HEAD GUARD UNIT

Claude W. Feagin, former captain in the U. S. army, who served in France with the American expeditionary forces, was elected unanimously at a meeting of ex-military men, last night, to head the new national guard company to be organized here. Recommendations to this effect were forwarded to the state adjutant-general immediately following the meeting.

"Meanwhile, Captain Feagin is going ahead with plans to get the company under way. Today he sent out a call for recruits. Application blanks may be secured from him at his home, 1111 W. Cass street. Men who may service overseas in the late war have the privilege of enlisting for a period of one year if they sign up before January 1. All others must join for three years."

To Replace State Guard.
The new company will take the place of the present emergency state guard company, the members of which will be discharged when the new organization is officially under way. State guardsmen may enlist in the new national guard for a period of three years, but this is not compulsory.

Ordinance equipment for the national guard unit is already here. Uniforms will be regular army khaki and will be provided by the state. Each man will be paid for the nights upon which he drills. The company will start with a company fund of $100 given by the state. First opportunity to join the new organization will be given to the surviving members of old "M" company, National Guard, which saw service overseas. The plan is to pick the lieutenants from the non-commissioned officers of the former local guardsmen who saw active service in the European countries.

Sixty-five enlistments are needed to constitute proper strength of a national guard company. This number must be secured before January 20 next, but the officers who are taking the initiative in this matter have every confidence that the full quota will be secured.

Another meeting of the officers' council will be held next Monday night at the Gazette office to further consider the plan.

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD HAS "HEREDITY" TALK

That "we cannot be too particular in choosing our grandparents" was the thought emphasized by J. E. Bennett last evening in a stirring address before the Men's brotherhood of the Methodist church. Mr. Bennett was teacher of biology at Valparaiso university, Indiana, for over 20 years. In speaking of "Heredity," he dwelt especially on the fact that the next generation has a right to a good, strong heredity of the best possible stuff.

He gave well known instances that like breeds like, and that a feeble-minded mother can endow a family of defectives with all the low characteristics which cause human disability. His talk provoked much discussion which was taken part in by Rev. Perry Millar and Dr. T. W. Nugent.

The president of the brotherhood, J. E. Auten, presided at the meeting and made a few remarks on the possibilities for service which lay in the membership of the organization. Following his talk it was voted that the organization become permanent, the membership of this year being considered a basis for the next. A committee to plan for 25 Christmas baskets from the brotherhood to be filled and given to the poor human beings in the city was appointed with C. W. Kommerer as chairman. A personal service committee to consist of 10 units covering every district in the city was appointed with E. P. Hooking as chairman. Its duty was to look out for its immediate neighborhood, welcome newcomers, and offer aid for those in need.

A supper of the Thanksgiving type was served at 7 o'clock to the 135 men present, who were seated at tables decorated with the red candles and red and green of the holiday season. Circle No. 3 with Mrs. George St. Clair in charge, prepared the supper. It was assisted by 20 women helpers, while Mrs. E. P. Hooking and Mrs. Paul Ehringer took charge of the dining room. Thirty-seven of the men present were new members, most of them newcomers to the city.

A pleasing musical program was presented in charge of Elmer Van Pool. It began with community singing led by C. E. Bearmore. Miss Wilma Pfennig gave a piano solo. Boyd Hill played a violin solo, and D. G. Reese gave a bass solo. Mrs. Stewart Richards sang two songs.

LAKOTAS WILL EAT TOMORROW EVENING

With five large turkeys to be disposed of, Lakotas will hold a Thanksgiving feast at the clubrooms tomorrow evening. The men's club reached at the special meeting last night. Chief Joe Denning was ordered to round up his clan of cooks and waiters to serve the banquet.

Matters pertaining to the annual dancing party to be given by the club members were discussed. Orchestras from Madison, Chicago, and Milwaukee to furnish the music for the affair are being negotiated with Don Kest, chairman of the music committee. A decision will be made at the regular meeting next Monday.

Thursday, December 4, was the date decided upon for the masquerade for club members and their girl friends. The affair will be held in Perschke's hall with music by Thompson's orchestra, Madison.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS WILL MEET DEC. 2

To boost the raising of Holstein cows in Rock county and make the county the best in the state, a meeting of the local branch of the State Holstein-Breeder's association will be held at Judge Maxfield's office in the city hall on December 2. The meeting is part of what is called a "whirlwind" campaign of the state association to give every Holstein breeder an opportunity to realize the importance of a more aggressive and unified effort to keep Wisconsin in the position of the leading Holstein state.

Other states, through systematic organization, are popularizing certain lines of breeding in an endeavor to take the lead. The state association seeks to live the cattle raisers to keen competition which they will have.

Authorities on breeding Holstein cattle will speak at the meeting to be held here.

PAYS $26 FEE FOR DRINKING ALCOHOL

Although alcohol does not taste as well as whiskey, it has the same effect upon the human constitution, according to Arthur Richards, who paid $26 in municipal court today for the privilege of imbibing the pure liquid last night. He was arrested on the east side last night by Officer Charles Harmon and was taken to the city lock-up, where he spent a somewhat miserable night.

When arrested he still had a pop bottle half full of alcohol in one of his pockets. The bottle bore the mark of a Balet arm.

He readily admitted being intoxicated and gladly paid his fine today, rather than spend a month in the county jail.

Richards' arrest was the second of a "white-lighter" within a month. Jerry Sullivan was in court Armatrice day for the same offense. They are the only two to be in court for intoxication since Oct. 7.

Your Thanksgiving dinner is not complete without a brick of Shurtleff's.

INTERURBAN PATRONS PROTEST FARE BOOST AT HEARING TODAY

Several patrons of the Rockford & Interurban railway company went to Madison today to voice their protest against the utility's petition to increase its passenger rates between Janesville, Beloit, and intermediate points. The public hearing began at 10 o'clock this morning before the railroad commission in its office at the capitol and gave promise of continuing throughout the day.

W. H. Dougherty, counsel for the corporation, appeared in behalf of the proposed increase presenting arguments tending to show that the proposed increase is justified because of increased operating expenses.

Don't Get the Influenza USE KRAFT'S PREVENTIVE

Read What Major George C. Ruhland, Milwaukee Health Commissioner, Says About This Remedy. Dr. Ruhland's opinion was given in large newspaper advertisements last spring when a recurrence of the "Flu" epidemic threatened. No doubt the wide use of this preventive at that time was a big factor in keeping the disease in check. Kraft's Preventive is a powder. It is blown into the nostrils and spaces behind the nose where it is immediately dissolved by abstracting the moisture from the membrane, thereby cleansing and preventing the lodgment of the influenza germ. This also means perfect disinfection, rendering harmless any germs that may already have found lodgment in the membrane and nipping the influenza in its incipency.

Edgerton News

[By Gazette Correspondent.] Edgerton, Nov. 25.—The death of Mrs. Bert Foote which occurred Sunday night is peculiarly sad owing to the fact that she left four small children to mourn her loss. Mrs. Foote has been a sufferer of tuberculosis for about three years, part of that time being spent in the sanatorium at Wales. Early this summer she came home and again the illness had progressed so far there was no hope. Mrs. Foote leaves besides her father and husband four children, five sisters, Mrs. M. Voog, Mrs. John Gardner, Mrs. Beanie Oleson, Mrs. John Nettum, and Mrs. Clarence Homas, and two brothers, Julius Larson and Nordahl Larson. The funeral will be held from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Martin Lutheran church at 3 o'clock, Rev. Gresham officiating. Kramer, officiating. Solon Anderson, one of the oldest and most prominent residents of the town of Albion, passed away at his home near Hillsdale, Sunday. Mr. Anderson was prominent in all civic affairs in his community and was secretary of the Albion Mutual Insurance company for a number of years. Miss Lucille Curran has accepted a position at Durand, and will leave for that city this week. A young son of Richard Wallinow was severely injured when he fell, striking on his face and breaking his nose. Isaac Bunting has sold his farm in the town of Sumner to Henry Amundson. Mr. and Mrs. Bunting have lived on this farm nearly 50 years. The top price for farmland in this vicinity was reached when E. M. Ladd bought the Arnold Sings farm, paying $400 per acre. While the buying of tobacco is not as brisk as it was a few weeks ago, occasional sales are made from 12 cents to 20 cents per pound. Warehouse managers are securing their help now for the hauling of the crop this winter. Miss Amanda Oleson one of the teachers in the public schools, spent the week-end at her home in Stoughton. MOLLA BJURSTEDT, RECENTLY MARRIED, DISCUSSES WOMEN, LOVE AND LAWN TENNIS

Franklyn Mallory and his bride, formerly Miss Molla Bjurstedt, famous tennis star, watching a tennis match at Forest Hills, N. Y.

The tennis world in particular and the country in general were interested in the recent news that Miss Molla Bjurstedt, famous Norwegian tennis star who set the U. S. tennis world on end for several seasons, had at last succumbed to Cupid's game and had married Franklyn Mallory, New York representative of a Philadelphia banking firm. She had apparently approved Cupid's efforts for years. She said recently, discussing her marriage: "Love is life to every woman. Tennis, like everything, leads to sentiment. I hope some day to have other interests in life than playing tennis and flirting."

EGG IS LUXURY FOR PROFESSOR

[By Associated Press.] Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 25.—Carnegie Institute of Technology professors are so poorly paid that some of them are unable to buy eggs for breakfast and at least one of them is unable to buy himself a badly needed pair of shoes. These statements are said to have been made yesterday at a meeting of the general faculty and made public today when resolutions asking the trustees to revise the salary schedule were sent to the trustees.

BISHOP LIKES PLAYS, SAYS GOOD LAUGH IS HELP TO EVERYBODY

[By Associated Press.] London, Nov. 25.—The Bishop of London, who says he enjoys a good play as much as anybody, presided at a conference the other day of representatives of theatrical managers, authors, actors, and critics. It was held at the instigation of the London council for the promotion of public morality. The bishop said the council was not in the slightest degree opposed to theatres or music halls. The people needed entertainment and a good laugh was good for everybody, he said. "But what we will not tolerate," he added, "is that we are not going to have people go to theatres to hear things which will degrade them. The Christian people of London intend to put a stop to that sort of thing." Sidney Valentine, president of the Actors' association, said the tendencies of theatres lately had been downward.

WAUSAU NOT WORRIED BY COAL SHORTAGE

[By Associated Press.] Wausau, Nov. 25.—Investigation of the fuel supply of Wausau's manufacturing plants reveals the fact that business will not be seriously hampered in this city for some time to come. Most of the Wausau factories burn wood and those that depend upon coal for heat and power have several months' supply in their bins. Coal dealers report that they have a small supply of soft and hard coal on hand and that they expect to be able to get more. Six carloads of coal assigned to Wausau parleys arrived at railroad yards, but are being held subject to the disposal of the regional coal commission.

THE EMBROIDERED HAT London, Eng.—Fashion hat discovered a new use for embroidery this season, and instead of being displayed on our stockings or dresses, it crops out on our hats. The designs are light, but the coloring bright, even gaudy, and the more needlework there is the better the effect. Most of the hats being small and soft the embroidery is freely applied over the whole surface.

NOW HE DOESN'T CARE Wichita, Kan.—Adam Williams, a farmer near Wakita, Okla., entered the office of a Wakita coal dealer and asked how much it would cost to buy fuel for his home for the winter. George Guthrie, the dealer, told him. Williams fell to the floor in a faint. Attempts to resuscitate him failed, and physicians said his death was due to heart failure.

RUSH OF HUNTERS

Harrisburg, Pa.—Seth E. Gordon, acting secretary of the State Game Commission, has placed orders for 25,000 additional hunters' licenses because of the great demand for licenses. More licenses have been issued thus far this season than ever known before and Mr. Gordon says that if the present rate continues the issue will reach 330,000 to 340,000. Game conditions are reported good in Central Pennsylvania counties as the result of inspection of several counties made at the end of the first hunting week.

Workers there demanded the privilege of remaining at their posts on German memorial day and when the firm refused to permit this the workmen to the number of 400 compelled officials to keep the plant open. Gustave Noske, minister of defense, fearing trouble, sent a brigade of troops to Wolfen, whereupon the workers struck because martial law was imposed. Employees of the electric plant at Rittenfeld, near Wolfen, which supplies Berlin with current, have struck in sympathy with the men at Wolfen, so that Berlin is threatened with loss of her electric supply. The census bureau prints a special supplement for each state in the union containing all the census figures relating to the state in question.

Organization Through Co-operation

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) attributes to organization its success in discharging its obligations as a public servant. The business of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a highly specialized branch of industry, where complete co-operation is necessary to insure maximum efficiency. Every one of the 22,000 men and women who make up the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) family must have a thorough, broad-gauged understanding of the benefits to be derived from organization. In addition each must have an intensive training which makes him a specialist, and enables him to complete his part of the work and pass it on to others without delay or lost motion. The result is a family of highly trained individuals, tense and keen to render to the public the utmost in service. But Standard Oil Company (Indiana) organization goes further. To give a single illustration: When a manufacturer has two machines, identical in construction, but not equal in production, he calls on the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for expert assistance and advice. A competent engineer goes over the problem and after thorough investigation, finds the lubricating oil necessary to cope with conditions surrounding the inefficient machine, and to bring it up to full capacity. Thus does the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) organization extend to industry generally, a service resulting in a combination to promote trade that production may be increased and the utmost in service given to the public.

Another Secret of the Brunswick

JUST a twist of the wrist enables the Brunswick owner to play ANY record that is made. There are no exceptions. We want you to see this ULTONA reproducer—and wonder as we have why no one had ever thought of it before.

The ULTONA plays every record with the right needle—steel, fibre, sapphire or diamond—they are all there. It plays each with the correct weight and with the playing stylus or needle at the correct angle. There is the genuine sapphire ball for the wonderful Pathe records, the genuine Diamond for Edison's Re-Creations. There is nothing to take off—nothing to put on.

No other phonograph in the world can give you the ULTONA.

This new feature, together with the acoustically perfect amplifier or tone chamber—built of wood on the violin principle—not only enables the Brunswick owner to choose his music from ALL the world's great Libraries, but to actually PLAY them ALL BETTER.

Come, and find out for yourself.

Just you HEAR the Brunswick.
